About the Event

AWS Community Day Kenya is a one-day technology conference organised entirely by volunteer cloud practitioners. It is part of a global programme of AWS Community Days held across Africa, Europe, Asia and the Americas each event independent, non-commercial and built by the local AWS community for the local AWS community.

The Pwani Edition brings the event to the Kenyan Coast. The day brings together developers, cloud architects, DevOps engineers, security professionals, data practitioners, founders, IT leaders and students for keynote sessions, technical talks, live demos, panel discussions and networking. Every session is delivered by a practitioner.

Previous editions of AWS Community Day Kenya have been held in Nairobi. This edition extends that community to the Coast.

The Audience

Every person in this room has made a deliberate choice to spend a full working day learning about cloud technology. They are practitioners — people who write code, design systems, run infrastructure and make decisions about the tools and platforms their organisations build on.

Segment	Why they matter to you
Software Developers & Engineers	They evaluate and adopt the tools, SDKs and platforms their teams use daily
Cloud Architects & DevOps Engineers	They design the systems — and choose the services and vendors that go into them
Startup Founders & CTOs	They decide the entire technology stack for their company
IT Managers & Decision Makers	They hold the budget and sign the procurement decisions
Students & Emerging Talent	The next generation of cloud engineers — shaped now by the brands they trust

(Track topics and session selected TBD after Call for papers adjudication)

Community Partner (In-kind)

Open

Not every organisation sponsors with cash. We welcome contributions of services, technology, equipment, food or other resources. If you have something the event needs, we will find a way to recognise it properly.

Ways to partner in-kind:

- Venue or facilities — provide the event space in exchange for co-hosting credit and the equivalent of Platinum branding
- Technology and equipment — cloud credits, hardware, AV equipment or devices
- Food and beverages — sponsor breakfast, lunch, coffee breaks or refreshments
- Prizes and swag — speaker gifts, branded water bottles or T-shirts
- Media and documentation — photography or videography in exchange for full media rights and prominent branding
- Printing and signage — sponsor the production of banners, programmes or lanyards

Community Partner arrangements are discussed directly with the organising committee. Get in touch and we will build something that works.
